Weber Machinery (Weber Food Technology GmbH) is a global leader in the development and production of slicing machines for cold cuts and cheese, represented in 21 countries worldwide. For our company located just outside Helsinki, we are looking for a skilled Service Technician who can independently coordinate and carry out service assignments at customer sites. You will become part of a strong team responsible for installing and servicing production lines at food manufacturers throughout Finland.

Your primary responsibility will be to plan, coordinate, and execute service assignments, ensuring that our customers' equipment is maintained to the highest standards. We are a small team of two Service Technicians in Finland and ten across Scandinavia. We place great emphasis on engagement and strong cross-border collaboration – which we reciprocate with attractive employment terms and a high degree of autonomy.

The role is varied, and you will continuously help shape the position with a focus on delivering high service quality, ensuring structured service visits, and following up on service agreements. You can expect travel days throughout Finland, primarily within the South Ostrobothnia – Ostrobothnia region.

Who are you?

You are trained as an automation technician, electrician, metalworker, or similar, and you have experience installing and servicing technical equipment. Experience with complex automated production lines is a strong advantage; however, if not, you will be supported by a highly competent team who can provide the necessary training.

You are outgoing, solution-oriented, and understand the importance of delivering excellent service. Customer satisfaction is key to our success, and we take pride in getting the job done right the first time.

Structure, initiative, attention to detail, follow-up, and a positive attitude are qualities we value highly. You are fluent in spoken and written Swedish and English. Experience communicating in a Scandinavian business context is considered a significant advantage, as we work closely with colleagues across the Nordic region.

We place great importance on "the person behind the application." We enjoy working together in our Nordic organization and are therefore looking for a socially confident individual who thrives on engaging tasks, is not afraid to express opinions, and is willing to contribute beyond the formal scope of the role when needed.

What do we offer?

You will join a small Finnish team with close collaboration across the Nordic countries and with our production facilities in Germany. You will plan your own working hours, always with respect for customer needs and deadlines.

The compensation package is attractive and includes a competitive fixed salary, company car, paid phone and internet, as well as various company events.

Short about Lund HR as recruiting company

Lund HR is owned by Flemming Lund. I am an experienced business leader with previous roles as a senior consultant in headhunting and recruitment, as a sales and marketing manager in the construction industry, the rehabilitation industry, and the food industry, and with 7 years of experience as the founder and owner of a company in the renewable energy sector.

For 19 years, I have been part of the management team in both larger and smaller companies. I have experienced the importance of having the right team around me. I have experienced the value of a cohesive organization working in the same direction.

Since 1. January 2016 I have been Headhunter assisting companies finding new dedicated and qualified employees. Naturally, I place emphasis on professional competencies, but I also highly value personal qualities, which is why in conversations I focus a great deal on the person behind the application.
